R. L. Borden Is Not Pleared With F.D. Monk's Opinions Concerning a Canadian Navy.

Petrolia, Nov. 9.—R. L. Borden, leader of the Conservatives, in speaking over the telephone yesterday said that he had not yet seen a correct report of the utterances of F. D. "But I cannot discuss more rumors," said Mr. Borden, "especially not over the telephone."

"If Mr. Monk expressed such views, would they surprise you?" was asked.

"Yes, if he did express such views," "Would it mean a distinct and serious cleavage in the ranks of the party?"

"I don't think the Conservative party takes much notice of mere rumors," was the reply.

Conard Lines Makes Port Three Days Overdue After Hard Passage.

New York, Nov. 8.—The 10,680 ton Conard liner Utopia, with her starboard engine wrecked and one of her propellers out of commission, arrived tonight from Mediterranean ports after a trip which some of the officers said was the roughest passage known to them. Those Who Have Acquired Land
Will Spend 15 to 30 Millions.

Winnipeg, Nov. 8.—J. T. Griffin, commissioner of C.P.R. lands, issued a statement this morning in regard to the development of the irrigated district in the Bow River Valley, where hundreds of American settlers have commenced homes this season. He said in addition to the sales of irrigable land, several hundred thousand acres of non-arable land had been sold by the company this year, especially in Southern Alberta, between Lethbridge and Calgary. In the neighborhood of Moose Jaw and on the Lacombe branch. Mr. Griffin said that the average price for both irrigated and non-irrigated lands last year was about $13.50 an acre, while

The sales in Bow Valley made by the Canadian Pacific Irrigation Colonization Company this year have surpassed expectations. The company's sales are due to the value of the company's operations in Western Canada may be gained from the fact that those who have this year, are put on land from the Canadian Pacific Irrigation Colonization Company must ultimately invest fifteen and twenty million dollars in this district. The company is bringing into the Bow Valley the same kind of settlement as the reason of the fact that land workers who go into that disport are archers and not home steadlers. It was estimated that an average of $50,000,000 will be the annual gross returns from the farms of the Box Valley and the figures will be attained within very few years. This estimate is based upon the fact that the 3,000 farms in that tract will ultimately provide farms for 20,000 families and a conservative estimate places the average annual gross return per family or farm at $2,500. This enormous volume of trade resulting from the marketing of these crops, while centering in Canada, will benefit the entire Canadian west from Winnipeg to Vancouver.

AGITATION TO CLOSE POST OFFICES SUNDAY

Lord's Day Alliance is actively working to Accomplish That—The Request Will Shortly be Sprung on Dominion Government.

Winnipeg, Nov. 9.—A most determined attempt to bring about the Lord's Day Alliance of Canada to have every postoffice in the Dominion closed on Sundays, and the alliance is now preparing to spring this new demand upon the Dominion government in the hope of being successful.

The campaign is being conducted with the greatest secrecy, and every member of the alliance is asked to "not make public in any way the proposed action." The reason of this is to be able to "strike the gang of the opposition."

Every minister of the gospel in Canada has been sent a letter by T. M. Moore, general secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance, with instructions to secure as much information and evidence as possible, and to send it in to headquarters.

These letters arrived in Winnipeg this morning and were secured from a local minister who evidently is not in sympathy with the movement. In the letter it is stated that there is no doubt that it is a great convenience to have the postoffices open on Sunday, but it is claimed the attendant evils outweigh any convenience.

Toronto, Nov. 8.—John A. Patterson, K. C., president of the Lord's Day alliance, asked about a dispatch from Winnipeg regarding the closing of post offices on Sunday, and the alliance is of the opinion that the same law should apply to the western part of the Dominion. Mr. Patterson said he was sure for the future mail on Sundays no doubt, asked their stenographers and bookkeepers to send their offices on Sundays to attend to any business which might be in the letters they put from the post office. He said that the alliance thought if the law was good in Toronto and all other eastern cities and towns it should be applied to the smaller places in the west.

LAUGHS AT LAURIER NAVY.

John Heron. Thinks He Has Sized Up Western Opinions.

Winnipeg, Nov. 9.—From my travels up and down my own constituency and through Alberta and the west, I find the majority of the people are opposed to Laurier's line of policy, and John Heron, M. P. for Macleod, who spent Saturday and Sunday in the city and will leave tonight for Ottawa for the opening of parliament, November 10.

"The Laurier navy is simply a joke," he went on. "Everyone laughs at the idea. It is looked upon as only a great scheme for further patronage, and as far as any practical value for Canada or the empire in case of war it would be useless."

The record of the government in its great spending departments is not such as to encourage confidence. What the people of the west want is a navy that will be of most practical value to the empire as a whole. How this can be secured by having a separate navy under a separate administration from the British admiralty, it is hard to say. Shipbuilding in Canada, of course, should be encouraged, and Canadians should be trained for the empire's navy, but ships and men should be under control of the admiralty here. If ships can be built economically in Canada, so much the better. When they are launched, though they should belong to the empire as a whole, not to Canada alone.

Canada could then have representation on the British admiralty board, so that the principle of no taxation without representation would not be violated. Mr. Heron stated that the feeling is very enthusiastic in the west over Mr. Heron's announcement of the holding of a Conservative convention. While the convention is held, he said it should be in Ottawa, and it is not until next summer, then Winnipeg.

BUDGET BILL WILL CARRY.

Dr. Clark, M.P., Says Government Would be Sustained Were it Issue.

Calgary, Nov. 9.—Dr. Clark, M.P. of O.C.B., and W. H. White, M.P. of Fort Saskatchewan, passed through the city enroute on their way to Ottawa on Nov. 11. To a reporter Dr. Clark said that he expected that the two most important articles to come before the house at the coming session would be the question of naval defense and the insurance act, although there is no doubt but that other questions of importance will be brought to the attention of parliament. On the former he said that there could be no difference of opinion as to the necessity for some concerted action on the part of Canada, to exist in the defense of the empire; the only point of controversy being the question of the best plan by which this should be carried out.

The proposed insurance bill is designed to regulate foreign companies doing business in Canada, and was up for discussion at last session.

Dr. Clark has always been a close student of imperial politics and is well acquainted with the trend of public opinion in Great Britain. In discussing the budget bill now before the imperial parliament he considered that it would be carried as it stands in the House of Commons and the House of Lords would not dare to reject it.

To such significance has been attached to the result of the election in Westminster in which the majority of the electors voted in favor of Mr. Lloyd-George's budget bill, although the presence of a Socialist candidate in the field allowed the election of the Conservative candidate. He predicted that if a general election were brought on and the budget made the chief issue the Asquith government would be sustained.

Concener's Jury Brings in Ruler to Verdict of Death in Case of Joseph Hobbs, Who Expired on Market Square.

The coroner's inquest to inquire into the death of Joseph Hobbs, who expired on the market square on Tuesday night, November 2nd, went in session four hours yesterday before the jury had heard all the evidence and brought in their verdict. The most important witnesses were Dr. McDonald, who attended the young man several hours before his death, at the office of the coroner, but who claimed that from their observation they could find no symptoms of poisoning. Hobbs left the physician's office about halfpast seven o'clock and about halfpast eight was found on a lead of his in the market square in a dying condition.

The Attorney General's department was represented by Jos. A. Clarke, who put the physician through a severe cross-examination, but they held that they could not find that they did not think the deceased had really been poisoned, though he was in good spirits and had questioned sharply on the duty of physicians to inquire into the cause of attempted suicide or other crimes to the police, but upon this point Dr. McDonald and McDonald also explained their position by stating that occasionally cases of poisoning came to their attention and they did not think they were called upon to bring such to the attention of the police.

The jury, after lengthy deliberation, brought in the following verdict: "We find that Joseph Hobbs came to his death by poisoning, given by his own hand, and that the physician would say that in future if any case like this should occur, at once report to the police authorities." Dr. J. H. Woodrow, who made the post-mortem examination, described the body as it was found, and the examination. He removed the stomach and delivered it to Dr. Revell. The examination by Dr. Revell showed that he could find no sign as to the man came to his death. He also described how he would treat a patient who came to his office saying he had taken strychnine poisoning. He would use a stomach pump and remove the contents of the stomach.

Dr. Revell, principal analyst and bacteriologist, told of having received a stomach in a glass jar from Dr. Woodrow. He described the contents of the stomach and said he submitted a part to examination for strychnine, which he found to be present. He detected no signs of alcohol.

In reply to Mr. Clarke, he stated that if the stomach had been thoroughly emptied the contents of the stomach which he found would have been largely removed. The abnormalities in the stomach he thought were due to irritation, caused probably by a poison such as strychnine. He described the routine procedure in strychnine poisoning, the removing of the contents of the stomach by pump or vomiting, and then giving relatives. The symptoms of strychnine poisoning are very peculiar, and frequently did not become manifest for some time, sometimes two or three hours after the man had taken a stomach pump.

relative, keeping the man under observation afterwards. Charles McMillan, a blacksmith, 2030 Jasper Ave., who was on Joseph Hobbs' avenue, identified the man who died on the square on Tuesday, November 2nd, as Joseph Hobbs, with whom he ate supper at the Farmers' Restaurant on the night before. He had roomed with him last winter in the Beulah Mission. He was in good spirits and said he had a good deal of good character.

Dr. McDonald's Evidence. Dr. McDonald, to whom the deceased had been taken on the night of the day on which he died, told of the conversation about him he had with Hobbs on the afternoon of the day when he died. "The man came to my office about a quarter to six. He and I talked it over. I immediately took him into the office and inquired what he meant. He said that he had taken some strychnine. I asked him how much he had taken, and he replied a teaspoonful. I asked if it was in liquid, and he said it was crystals. I then gave him an emetic, and while waiting for it to be telephoned for Dr. McDonald, I took some other inquiries and stopped answering."

"I have not heard the previous evidence as to the cause of the man's death." Dr. McDonald, in explaining his action, said that a short time before a woman had come to his office and told him that she had taken strychnine. He thought the matter had afterwards been reported to the police. This was partly his reason for not reporting the present case, as her story was entirely wrong and the woman is now at large.

Why He Did Not Report. In answer to a jurymen, Dr. McDonald said he had endeavored to find out how much man where the poison had come from. The reply was that it had been given by another person, but when questioned further he refused to give any further information. Asked how long he had had the crystals of strychnine, the deceased had replied that he had had them for a long time.

When did you first hear that the man you treated was the man who suicided? "Chief Langey called me up on the telephone and asked me about it." "Did you give him any medicine?" "The man died from strychnine poisoning."

I treated as the same person, for I did not think that he had taken strychnine." "If the man had shown convulsions later, would you have done anything for him?" "I guess we could."

"I certainly could have saved his life." "To a jurymen he said that there were no signs of strychnine poisoning shown." "Chief Campbell, to whom the case was reported, told of the finding of the man in a dying condition on the lead of his in the market square. Shortly afterwards he expired and was removed to the undertaker's room."

The counsel then spoke briefly and reviewed the evidence, after which the jury retired for their deliberation. After half an hour they returned the verdict as above outlined.

REGINA'S RATE APPLICATION Alleged Discrimination Against Regina by Railway Brought Before Board of Trade. Regina, Nov. 8.—The entire day was spent by the railway commission in dealing with the application of the Regina board of trade for a reduction on section 341 and 40 lowering to the level of the Regina board of trade on goods shipped from eastern Canada to Regina. S. H. Phillips, while J. A. McKinnon, K.C., appeared for the Regina board of trade, and G. Smith, of the board of trade, presented the Regina case.

In his opening speech it was maintained that the present rates discriminated against Regina in favor of Winnipeg, Brandon and Portage La Prairie, permitting these cities and into points which are geographically in the territory of Regina. The board of trade also pointed out that the Regina rates were higher than the Manitoba rates, which was complained, was 7.12 per cent higher than the Manitoba rates. The complaint was not against outgoing rates, but on the incoming rates. The present railway tariff gave Winnipeg a rate of 40 cents per 100 lbs. of 10 cent's lower than the Regina rate actually called for, brought to Regina, which was 40 cents per 100 lbs. less than the Regina rate.

Geo. H. Shaw, C.N.R. general manager, in his opening speech, on behalf of the railway companies said he considered the rates in Manitoba, which were lower than the Regina rates, were not against outgoing rates, but on the incoming rates. He considered the question of the value of the Regina rates, which was not overlooked. No reduction, he said, could be given to Regina without extending it to Moose Jaw and Saskatoon. The rate commission said, he said, 9 cents per 100 lbs. less than the rate by standard, and also gave Regina a 10-cent rate.

Debate. Dr. H. T. Laid, for the company and H. W. Laird for the board of trade, summed up their cases. Chairman D. Grey said that the board would sit at Winnipeg next Monday when an opportunity would be afforded to Winnipeg, Brandon and Portage La Prairie to give their sides of the case.

The commission will sit again tomorrow to consider the question of a railway and union station. Borden at Strathroy. Strathroy, Ont. Nov. 9.—R. E. Borden, principal, addressed an audience that filled the Lyceum Theatre, in connection with the interests of R. E. MacLachlan, his candidate in West Middlesex. Mr. Borden made no reference to the railway, but he answered to Hon. Mackenzie King's nomination speech, paid a tribute to the sound common sense of counsel in excess of the former members of parliament. The rest of his remarks were along the usual lines of a condemnation of the government extravagance and the silencing of opposition demands for scandal evidence.

SPORTING NEWS

THE NEW YORK HORSE SHOW.

New York, Nov. 10.—The fifth annual horse show opened today at Madison Square Garden, though the four-legged aristocrats found themselves pelted against the wind, driving rain, and a blustering north wind, and it seemed as if the show would be a little less than a success. The show is a big one, and it is expected that it will be one of the best yet.

The old grand never looked younger, or more blooming than it did to-night. Dressed from four to eight, even old bald painted new and even late and hidden by the gorgeous or bunches of pink flowers, the old building was a great sight in itself. As for the horse show, it was the same old tankard smell, the same old lines of lights and lamps of bugles, the same social parade with its diamonds encircled in furs, the same show-bred barons, princely and to be knee and hussy as to seat the man who gets nothing but "thank you" for his services.

There are 300 more entries at the horse show than there have ever been for even this show. The show is a big one, and it is expected that it will be one of the best yet.

Artillery New York National Guard, but the regular army men pressed Mr. Barrett hard and three of the top four places were taken by the regular army men.

Three English horses had been entered, but they were the decked variety, they were ineligible.

Some of the best horses of the show appeared in the parade. The right of these horses was given to the regular army men, and the judges took a long time to decide on the winners.

There are 300 more entries at the horse show than there have ever been for even this show. The show is a big one, and it is expected that it will be one of the best yet.
